HAND FEED CHICKADEES

BRECKSVILLE NATURE CENTER

Chickadees are a tiny bird with a fluffy coat that thrive during the cold winter months. These birds are very friendly and will eat out of the palm of your hand!

Come to the Brecksville Nature Center on Sat and Sun from 10am-12pm in January to feed chickadees for FREE. The staff will provide you with seeds and instructions. No reservation required.

WILD WINTER HIKES

Go out on a winter hike. Look for animal tracks and other clues that animals are around you.

You can recreate snowy animal tracks at home by spreading a thin layer of shaving cream on construction paper and making marks with pipe cleaners and other tools.
